‘SAMRAS’ The food festival was organized by the faculties of EBSB Club of Government Polytechnic, Ahmedabad on 20th February,2020 along with group of students registered under EBSB Club & the festival of traditional nutritious food was celebrated in a form of grand event. Under this event, food stalls were created to serve various recipes of the paired state Chhattisgarh along with number of dishes of different states reflecting diversity of India.

Food festival also aspired to put the lesser known but nutrient-rich food from various states on the plate of communities helping them to adopt healthier food habits and lifestyle. Through this event the students got platform, the work experience of which will really help them when they graduate and will be organizing events themselves.

The event was not only limited to students of the institute but also their parents/guardians were invited & faculties too were present with their families to have the test of number of food delicacies of various states of India. Within a few hours, the news regarding this event was covered by Media ( News Link:- <https://khabarconnect.com/?p=5774> ) & also it got good appreciation overall on social media too.
