- Got to learn my responsibility towards nation
- It was my first poster presentation. I learnt a lot from the fellow participants. Like one must present a poster, how to make a poster.
- The event has gone very smoothly and constantly. I really appreciate the management and I also learnt a lot of things
- Nice experience and we took a topic towards on india pran pledges, overall a thought full event
- We should be proud of the cultural diversity in India
- Be united, proud of our indian culture and tradition
- It was very knowledgeable event.
- Came to know much about 5 prans.
- The event was quite engaging.

11) Risk and mitigations:

- Network Connection was a challenge for a few participants.
- Participants facing network issues were given extra time and were allowed to join again for presenting.

12) Outcomes:

- (i) Students demonstrated skills such as creativity, teamwork and communication.
- (ii) Students learnt from other teams and will improve themselves with this experience to further enhance and broaden their vision about diversity of the country.
- (iii) Students were exposed to their role as a citizen for making India a developed country.

13) Scope for improvement:

- Improvement in terms of a platform will be an essential development, an offline program will be more beneficial for the students.

Sense of Duty Among the Citizens

A Stronger Sense of Duty Leads to a Better Society

What ?

A sense of duty is a belief that individuals are responsible for contributing to the greater good of their community, country, and the world.

Why ?

A strong sense of duty among citizens leads to a more cohesive and supportive society.

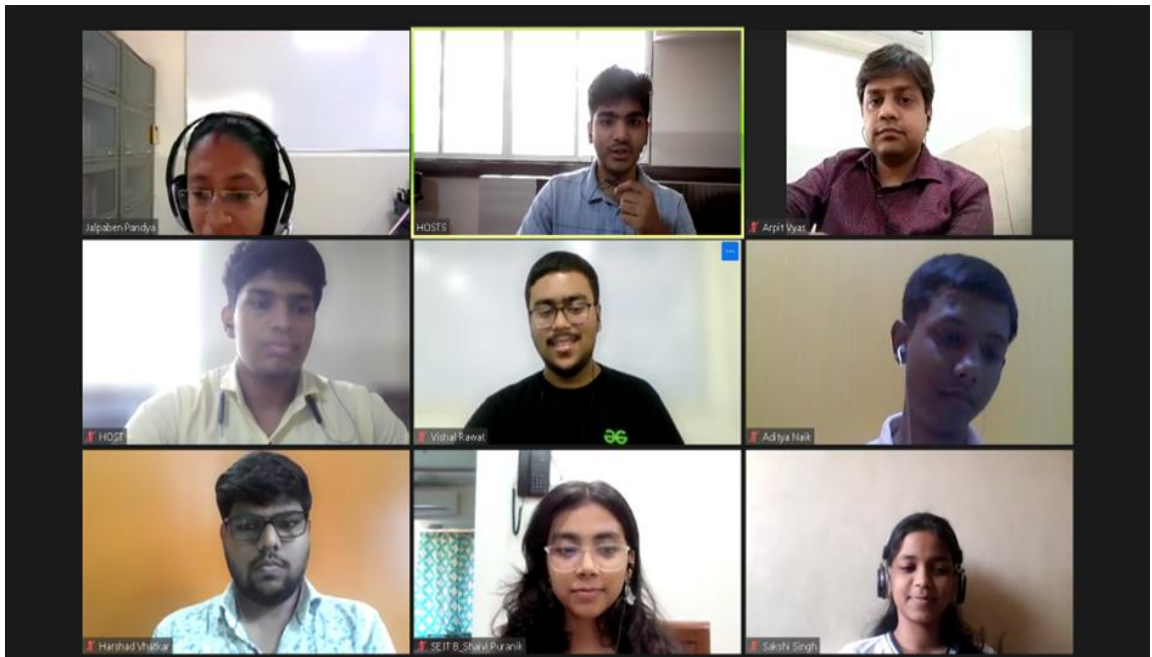

How ?

- Encourage volunteer work
- Education
- Positive Reinforcement

Conclusion

It encourages individuals to work together towards a common goal and helps to create a better future for all.

A STRONG SENSE OF DUTY IS THE KEY TO A STRONG AND RESILIENT SOCIETY

16) Conclusion:

The event “Poster Presentation on Panch Pran : Five Pledges for Developed India” was a beautiful and successful event that was done where students were given 5 topics in which they need to make a poster. They were given time of two weeks to create a digital poster. Participants presented creative posters and explained their ideas about Developed India to the judges and audience. The presentation session was followed by question-and-answer session. The event ended with a vote of thanks and enriching take aways from each poster.
