Online Mock Interviews

L. J. Institute of Management Studies, every year conducts mock interviews to train its students and prepare them for corporate interviews. This year due to lock down physical interviews of students were not possible. As a responsibility though the institute has continuously focus on students' learning process, skill development and training. It has to constantly develop its graduates for industry readiness. Hence, keeping in mind the current situations, the Institute conducted online mock interview of students using Zoom Cloud Meeting platform.

All the students were equally divided amongst faculties who were provided with time slots to conduct the interviews. Before conducting the interviews, the students were also provided with a common resume template. Faculties were also provided with the evaluation sheet in soft copy which they had to submit once all the interviews were conducted. They also gave necessary feedback to the students for areas of improvisation. The activity was conducted in month of April for three days, i.e. 8th to 10th April 2020. Interviews of total 432 students were taken by faculty members online.
