Report:

Mr. Amoghavarsha JS, a Wildlife Photographer and one of the Filmmakers of the stunning documentary 'Wild Karnataka', inaugurated the literary and art competition on Saturday, the 15th February 2020 at JSS Science and Technology University (JSSSTU), formerly known as SJCE.

In his inaugural speech, Mr. Amoghavarsha spoke about his journey from a software engineer to a renowned filmmaker. He emphasized on the importance of having a story, and that a photograph has no meaning without a story behind it. He shared words of wisdom and experience and truly inspired the crowd, to find their passion and never stop reading. He said that if people believe in themselves and pursue their passion, they will achieve things even greater than their dreams. Mr. Amoghavarsha compared this to listening to Sir David Attenborough to him narrating his own documentary. He also talked about Mysuru being a hub for literature and art and expressed happiness over the conduction of this event. He also expressed his views on helping the environment by going outside and becoming aware of the conditions around us and spread this awareness and strive for a better world.

A large number of people had gathered and were eagerly waiting to catch a glimpse and ask questions to the award-winning filmmaker of the beloved documentary 'Wild Karnataka'. Nagabhushana, Staff coordinator of SJCE editorial board Prof. Vanishri Arun and the two student Editors-in-Chief of JSSSTU Editorial Board Mr. Vishruth MU and Mr. V Poornachandra. Poornachandra presented the annual report of the Editorial Board. Prof. T.N. Nagabhushana spoke about preserving all the nature around us, and also always being innovative. Prof. Lokesh spoke about the creativity of the board and the art installations put up across the college and reiterated the Chief guest's message of following your passion.
