WORLD ENVIRONMENTAL DAY

REPORT

Observances: Environment protection

Significance: Environmental issues awareness

We the staff and the students of our zoology students planting saplings in our college campus to celebrate Environmental day on 30-07-2019. We brought the saplings from nearby forest department. As a science student, it is our duty to protect our environment. The students were showing very much interest and involvement in their activities. The foundation supports all life on land and below water. This day is the most renowned day for environmental action.
