

TEACHING OF MODERN PERIODIC TABLE

A seminar on Teaching of Modern Periodic Table was organised for pre-service and in-service Science teachers on 19.10.19. Dr. Gopalan, former Head of Chemistry Department, Madras Christian College served as the resource person for the session. He emphasised the traits to be developed among the science teachers to ignite the scientific attitude among school children.

The different methods of teaching modern periodic table were demonstrated by him. He narrated the evolution of modern periodic table and contributions different scientists across the globe. The simple methods of teaching science were explained. The different techniques of grouping and learning the elements of periodic table was taught to the science teachers.

