

Report of A special online lecture on ‘Women in Literature Through Ages’ organised by Department of English:

A special lecture on Images of Women in Literature through Ages was organized by the Dptt of English on 24th June, 2020 at 2pm using an online platform. About 32 no of participants including students and teachers joined the lecture. The eminent invited speaker of the program was Sri Biswajit Gupta, Associate Professor of English Principal in charge, Ramthakur College, Former Director, SCERT. Literature is the mirror of society in all ages. The objectives to organize this lecture are -(1) to make aware about e-learning to the students residing in remote areas, without sound economic background. (2) To make the regular online teaching learning process a little bit more interesting during the long lock down period. (3) To discuss that whether Covid-19 has brought any changes in the scenarios of women-- their sufferings,oppressions -in society? Smt.Gopa sarkar Faculty member, Dptt of English, welcomed all on behalf of Dptt. Principal in charge, Dr.Chitra Pal welcomed the guest on behalf of the college. The invited speaker enriched all the students and teachers with his in depth knowledge. He discussed the Images of women in different roles, their craving for identity, helplessness and protests against exploitation, inequality, their ambitions and villainous act to fulfill that ambition. He discussed from Riders to the Sea, Arms and the Man, Macbeth, Pride and Prejudice, Mayor of Casterbridge and The Guide for the benefit of the students of all the semesters Hons and pass course. Smt.Lipika Debbarma, Associate Professor, Dptt of Political Science, Convener Academic Committee, encouraged the students through her speech. Smt. Kalyani Roy, Faculty Member Dptt of English, coordinator of the program, gave Vote of Thanks to the Honorable guests. Sri Rajesh Paul, Guest Faculty, anchored the program nicely.