

Annamalai University

REPORT ON WEBINAR on SUSTAINABLE UTILIZATION OF FISHERY RESOURCES IN HIMALAYAN BASIN

The webinar on “Opportunities for the Development and Sustainable Utilization of Fishery Resources at Himalayan Basins of Northern India” conducted under the RUSA - EK BHARAT SHRESHTHA BHARAT CLUB, of Annamalai University.

It was conducted on 5th August, 2020, at CAS in Marine Biology, Faculty of Marine Sciences, Annamalai University, Parangipettai-608 502, organised by S. Kumaresan, Assistant Professor and Dr. B. Deivasigamani, Dr.D.Annadurai and Dr. A. Sundaramanickam, Associate Professors served as co-organising secretaries. The director and deputy directors of DRD, Annamalai University were acted as co-ordinator and technical co-ordinators respectively.

The chairman of this webinar was Dr. Prof. M. Srinivasan, Dean & Director has delivered the welcome address and briefed the important activities of our faculty. Dr. N. Saravanane, Scientist ‘F’ CMLRE, MoES, Govt. of India has inaugurated the webinar with his inaugural address on present status of fisheries in India. Dr. K. D. Joshi and Dr. V. S. Basheer, Principal scientists from ICAR - National Bureau of Fish Genetic Resources, Govt. of India, have delivered lectures on “Himalayan fisheries and aquaculture; challenges and opportunities” and “Fishery status of Western Ghats basins” respectively. About 100 participants of our BFSC students and Faculties were attended the webinar. During this program the participants are able to understand the status of fishery resources specifically in Himalayan basin including the paired state of Jammu and Kashmir. The program received overall appreciation from the participants for its content and usefulness.