Name of the Activity: Webinar on 'An Insight into Functioning of International Arbitral Institutions'

Arbitration is the most formal alternative to litigation. In this process, the disputing parties present their case to a neutral third party, who renders a decision. Arbitration is widely used to resolve disputes in both the private and public sector. Arbitration is generally considered a more efficient process than litigation because it is quicker, less expensive, and provides greater flexibility of process and procedure. These things should be known to Law Students of a College who are budding lawyers.
