On the other hand, 10% participants were indecisive and 2.5% participants were disagreed with National Education Policy, 2020. According to the results, NEP 2020 has revamped the whole education system in our country. It leads to a progressive change, but it requires a huge coordination and cooperation for proper implementation in all its aspects. It will definitely address the present and future needs of both the teacher and taught, but it must have a practical utility and a mechanism should be developed for its effective implementation at different levels of education.
