REPORT

COLLOQUY

MONTH – March

Sikkim is domiciled by many ethnic castes , folks and habits .With the onset of March, BCHIMCT organised a platform for colloquy, where in the the students of all four years were given a chance to put their word forward on the traditions and ideas of Sikkim.

This event was conducted under the supervision of the esteemed faculty Mr. Piyush Shrivastava and Mr. Siddhant. The students of all four years put their foot forward to portray the the beautiful tradition and culture of the state to words. The participants not only spoke on the regional and cultural grounds but also included the major problems faced by the stated along with a possible solution .

Dev nishchan a student of first year beautifully spoke on the various castes and tribes living in Sikkim along with departing information about their local food, folk dances, language and believes. Rishabh Chauhan was another prominent speaker who threw light on the problems faced by the tribes of Sikkim.

Mr. Piyush Shrivastava not only helped in coordinating the event but also encouraged the students to overcome their public speaking fear and speak out their thoughts on such platforms.
