India's 10th largest state is endowed with a rich culture, heritage and attractive natural diversity. Situated in the heart of India with a ten thousand years old civilization. Chhattisgarh is a uniquely Indian experience. Home to the country's widest waterfalls, caves, lush green forests, ancient monuments, rare wild life, exquisitely curved temples, Buddhist sites and hill plateaus. Chhattisgarh boasts of more than 80% of bio diversity that is not found anywhere across the country. The state has 44% of forest cover with 32% of tribal population. Chhattisgarh figures in numerous tales that form part of the two great Indian epics, the Ramayana and the Mahabharata. The state boasts of the widest waterfall in India, Chitrakote. The annual mega event 'Sirpur International Dance and Music Festival' which is held every year at the Buddhist site of Sirpur is particularly noteworthy. This state presents a curious mixture of modern and traditional way of life.
