

YUVA TOURISM CLUB ACTIVITY BY
INSTITUTE OF HOTEL MANAGEMENT, SHILLONG
May 2024

Activity	Month of Activity	Details of the activity	Paired state involved	No of participants	Judging Criteria
Essay writing on the Theme "Potential of rural and eco-tourism in the North Eastern State of India"	13 th May 2024	IHM Shillong organized an essay writing competition on the Theme "Potential of rural and eco-tourism in the North Eastern State of India"	Uttar Pradesh	10

0] Political, social, economic in the Northern Eastern State of India

→ Indian North-eastern states comprising Assam, Arunachal Pradesh, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, Tripura and Tripura are renowned for their rich cultural heritage, breathtaking landscapes and diverse flora and fauna. Despite their regional potential for social and economic growth, they remain largely neglected due to various reasons.

1] Poor Infrastructure: The region is known for a dearth of roads and bridges, hindering connectivity and economic growth. The lack of infrastructure is a major obstacle for industrial growth and upliftment.

2] Ethnic Diversity and Cultural Conflict: The Northeast is home to a diverse range of ethnic groups, each with its own unique language, culture, and traditions. This diversity has led to ethnic tensions and conflicts, hindering social harmony and economic development.

3] Geographical Isolation: The region is geographically isolated, with difficult terrain and limited access to major markets. This isolation hampers trade and commerce, leading to economic stagnation.

4] Lack of Investment: The region has received minimal investment from the government and private sector. This lack of investment has led to a dearth of jobs and economic opportunities.

5] Political Instability: The region has experienced political instability and insurgencies, which have further hindered development.

6] Limited Education and Healthcare: The region has a low literacy rate and limited access to quality education and healthcare, which are essential for economic growth.

ESSAY ON
Economic of North East Region in the Indian Eastern States of India

The northeastern states of India comprising Assam, Arunachal Pradesh, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, Tripura and Tripura are renowned for their rich cultural heritage, breathtaking landscapes and diverse flora and fauna. Despite their regional potential for social and economic growth, they remain largely neglected due to various reasons.

1] Poor Infrastructure: The region is known for a dearth of roads and bridges, hindering connectivity and economic growth. The lack of infrastructure is a major obstacle for industrial growth and upliftment.

2] Ethnic Diversity and Cultural Conflict: The Northeast is home to a diverse range of ethnic groups, each with its own unique language, culture, and traditions. This diversity has led to ethnic tensions and conflicts, hindering social harmony and economic development.

3] Geographical Isolation: The region is geographically isolated, with difficult terrain and limited access to major markets. This isolation hampers trade and commerce, leading to economic stagnation.

4] Lack of Investment: The region has received minimal investment from the government and private sector. This lack of investment has led to a dearth of jobs and economic opportunities.

5] Political Instability: The region has experienced political instability and insurgencies, which have further hindered development.

6] Limited Education and Healthcare: The region has a low literacy rate and limited access to quality education and healthcare, which are essential for economic growth.

Essay writing on "Political, social, economic in the Northern Eastern State of India"

Introduction

The Northeast is the lifeline of a nation, if it is not to exist as a united whole, but as a mosaic of regional development. This being said, however, you are entitled to highlight on various socio-economic and cultural development initiatives.

1] The region is known for its rich cultural heritage, breathtaking landscapes and diverse flora and fauna. Despite their regional potential for social and economic growth, they remain largely neglected due to various reasons.

2] Poor Infrastructure: The region is known for a dearth of roads and bridges, hindering connectivity and economic growth. The lack of infrastructure is a major obstacle for industrial growth and upliftment.

3] Ethnic Diversity and Cultural Conflict: The Northeast is home to a diverse range of ethnic groups, each with its own unique language, culture, and traditions. This diversity has led to ethnic tensions and conflicts, hindering social harmony and economic development.

4] Geographical Isolation: The region is geographically isolated, with difficult terrain and limited access to major markets. This isolation hampers trade and commerce, leading to economic stagnation.

5] Lack of Investment: The region has received minimal investment from the government and private sector. This lack of investment has led to a dearth of jobs and economic opportunities.

6] Political Instability: The region has experienced political instability and insurgencies, which have further hindered development.

7] Limited Education and Healthcare: The region has a low literacy rate and limited access to quality education and healthcare, which are essential for economic growth.